DON BOSCO TECHNICAL INSTITUTE

FOR GOD AND COUNTRY
1955

James Francis Cardinal McIntyre 1886-1979

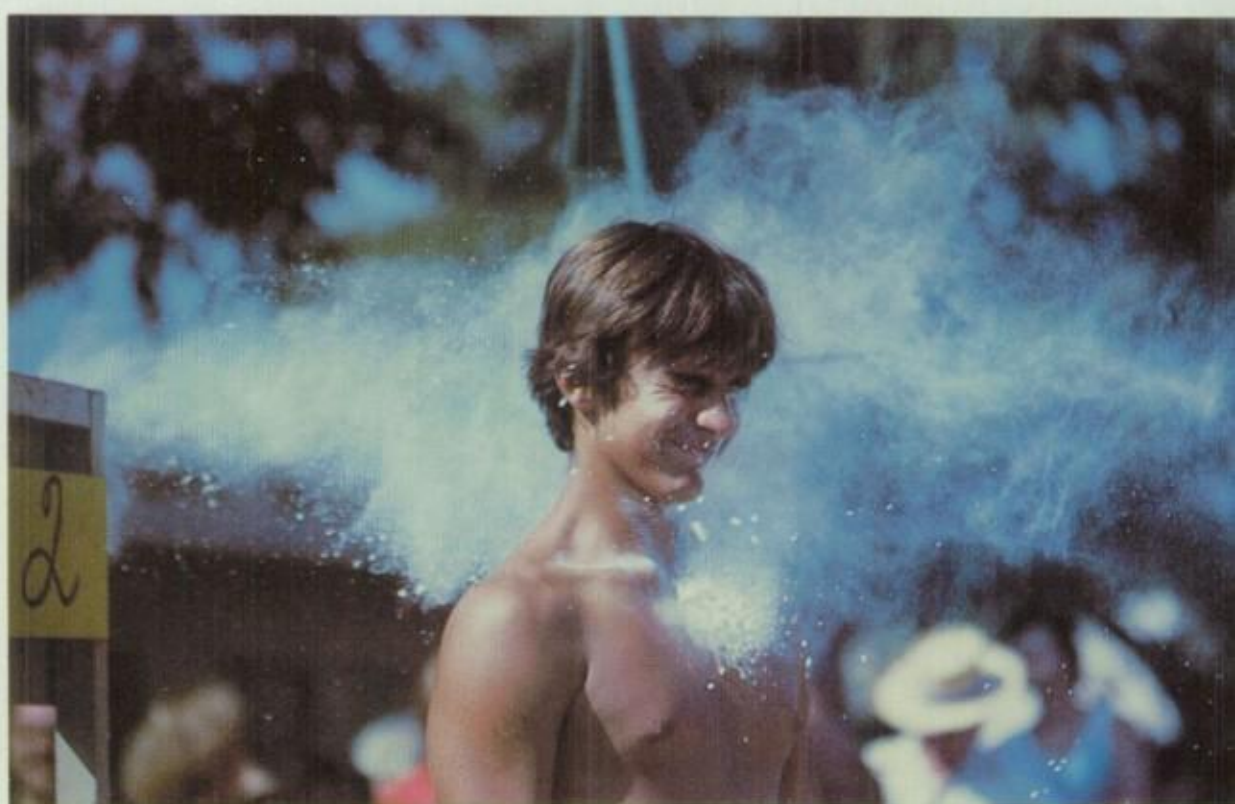

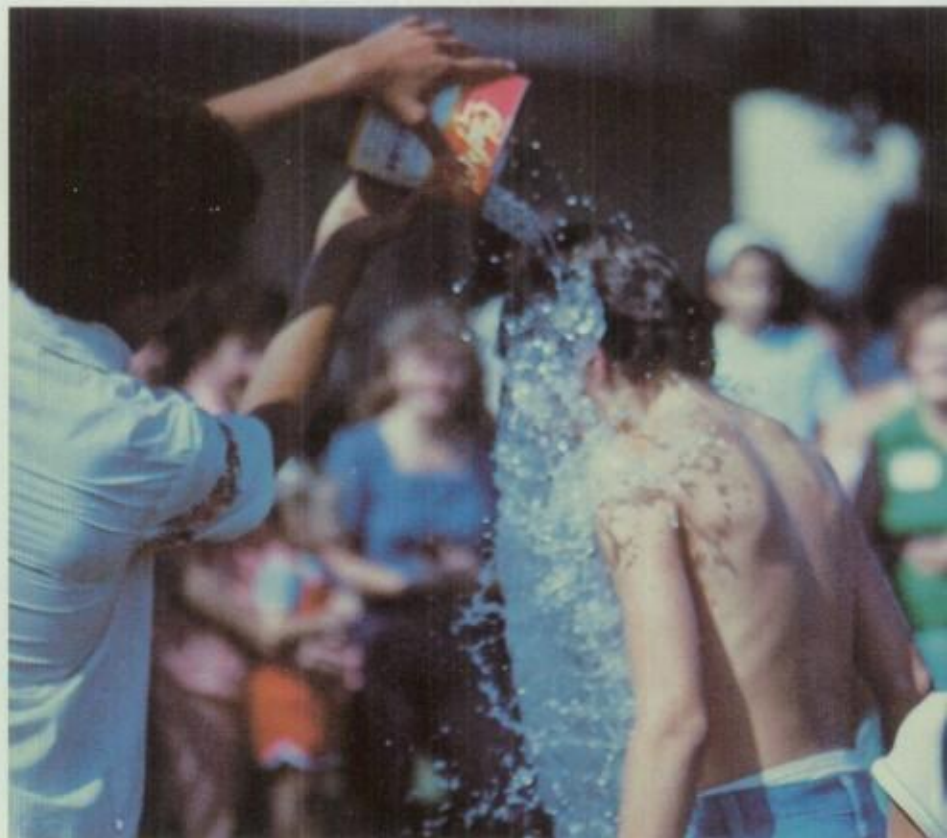

In a very special way Bosco Tech owes its inception and existence to the late Cardinal McIntyre. Through his inspiration and the cooperative efforts of the Salesians and numerous industrial leaders of the Los Angeles area, Bosco Tech was established in 1954.

His dream of creating a Catholic technical school to train leaders in technology has come true. The many graduates engaged in various technical fields are a credit to Bosco Tech and to Cardinal McIntyre, whose dream has been fulfilled in them.

As long as Bosco Tech endures, the memory of its father, Cardinal McIntyre, will be held in great esteem and reverence. Today all of us are grateful to him for his long and personal interest in the progress and expansion of Don Bosco.

Members of the Aviation Club attended an air show presented by the Air Force at Norton Air Force Base November 7. The club members observed many different types of planes and jets on display and later watched the aerial acrobatics of the Thunder Birds.

The show featured such planes as the World War I Tri-Wing Red Baron; World War II Mustangs, Thunderbolts, and Lightnings; and present day B-52's, C-14 transports, and the supersonic ST-71, the fastest plane in the sky.

The exhibit presented the changing designs and styles that have characterized plane development from the beginning to the present. Club members were allowed to enter and tour some of the biggest jets, such as transports. They observed the intricate instrument panels in the cock pit, as well as the wiring of the engines.

Also on display were vehicles from the Sheriffs Department and the Forestry Service. Even the army was present to show off a tank and some hand weapons.

After seeing and touring the Air Force facility, the Bosco students were treated to an aerial show by the Thunderbirds, who flew formations during their famous spellbinding acts. They performed such stunts as a head-on-collision flight, missing one another by feet, and formation change overs in loops and turns.

Fr. Caporali Receives Plaque For 25 Years of Service

by Mark Goggins

For his 25 years of dedicated Christian service to the priesthood, Fr. Paul Caporali was presented with a silver anniversary plaque by the Bosco Tech student body as part of November's First Friday mass.

Fr. Paul was the principal concelebrant of the mass, along with Fr. Negri, Fr. Schafer, and Fr. Nick, a graduate of Bosco.

The mass was highlighted by Fr. Nick's sermon, which pointed out certain special incidents involving himself as a young metallurgy student and his instructor, Fr. Paul.

Immediately after the mass the silver anniversary plaque was presented to Fr. Paul by Student Body President Eddie Morales on behalf of the entire student body and faculty of the Tech. After Fr. Paul had accepted the plaque and had given a brief speech, the celebration was brought to a close.

Fr. Paul has been at Bosco Tech from its beginning in 1955, and his contributions to the school have been immeasurable. As one of the founding fathers of the school, Fr. Paul started the metallurgy shop. He was the dean of technology and a metallurgy instructor in past years.

More recently he has been doing retreat work at St. Joseph's Seminary. Fr. Paul is a true Christian leader among the students at the Tech, giving of his patience, knowledge, and understanding, said Fr. Nick.

Bloodmobile Visits Campus

by Robert Bloomer

Seventy-nine pints of blood were donated by almost 100 members of the student body during the last campus Bloodmobile October 25, according to Fr. Purdy.

The Bloodmobile was set up as a six-bed unit, with six nurses assisting. The year's goal was 90 pints of blood, and this aim was 78 percent attained. "This is a worthy cause," said Fr. Purdy, "and every student should keep in mind that each time one person gives blood, four lives are affected."

The cost for the Bloodmobile was $1,200, but thanks to shop representatives and blood donors the program turned out to be a success.

The Bloodmobile workers complimented the blood donors on their courtesy and consideration. The Bloodmobile will return to Bosco Tech March 4, 1980.

Student Talent Displayed At Recent Halloween Show

by Ronald Theiss

On Friday, October 26, Bosco Tech presented its annual talent show. It began with a loud and enthusiastic rendition of "Copa Cabana" by the Bosco Tech Band under the direction of Br. Joseph Antonisamy.

First prize was awarded to Eric Theiss, Fourth Year Building Tech student. Second prize went to Gerald Da Silva (Fifth Year Metallurgy), while third prize was given to Darlene Bonaparte of Ramona.

The acts were introduced by the master of ceremonies, Jorge Soto, who in keeping with Halloween was appropriately creepy and scary. He changed costume with each act.

The first act was a magic show starring Ricardo Rodriguez. His magic feats were quite clever, but his delivery was a little slow. He needs to speed up the tempo.

The following act was a piano solo, "Fantasie Impromptu" by Chopin, ably interpreted by Eric Theiss. He played with great sensitivity and will someday rival Horowitz.

The third act was another piano solo. Patrick Aranda played a ragtime version of Hungarian Rhapsody No. 2. It was a comic routine, but would have been better if it had been played straight.

An instrumental followed this act. The group A.W.O.L., consisting of James Kaihatu, Dave Nobile, Mike Wallenstein, and Jim Bosco played "Heart of Gold." The guitars were good but the harmonica was incongruous. The singer might have good if he could have been heard.

The fifth act was a song solo by Daniel Gonzalez, ably assisted by Ken Willers. He was a fair singer, as good as some of the famous recording stars. At one point, though, his voice did fade out.

A comedy routine followed. "Station Break II," performed by Steve Hawkins and Jack Spracher, was not as funny as it could have been. Their comedy timing was off.

The seventh act, a dance routine featuring the "Warps," a group of thirteen, was a funny, hip-swiveling, and energetic dance. It was greatly appreciated by the audience, who gave them a big hand.

Then Rudy Herrera sang "A Better Place to Be," accompanying himself on the guitar. The song was great, but Rudy's voice was distorted by the microphone. An impression of Elvis Presley was then performed by Armanda de la Torre. He did a few of the Presley favorites.

The tenth act, an accordion trio, featured Robert Reidel, Paul Reidel, and Helen Reidel. She wasn't bad on the accordion.

Next, Darlene Bonaparte sang "My Mama Done Told Me" and accompanied herself on the piano. She had great stage presence and poise, and is a very talented person.

For the final act, Gerald Da Silva played "Strange Meadowlark" on the piano. His performance was technically perfect, and he shows promise.

The grand finale was a rousing rendition by the Bosco Tech band of the Army of the Nile. However, it was too loud for the people sitting in the front.

Cross Country Coach Tom Sampson said it was a season to be proud of. He was referring to Tech's "miraculous" seventh-place CIF finish this season. Bosco Tech was not even rated at the beginning of the season but came on strong to surprise many.

The Tech sophomore team finished second of 45 teams at the Cal State Northridge Invitational, capturing some 12 medals there. Only Carpinteria was better.

During the regular season the Tech lost only to La Salle and Cathedral, while tying with Bell-Jeff. At the league championships, however, Tech trounced Bell-Jeff but narrowly lost to Cathedral. The Tech JV team finished second only to La Salle.

In the CIF prelims a week later, Tech finished third out of 11 top teams, missing second place by one point in its heat. Tech finished eighth out of 31 teams overall.

In the CIF finals, Tech made up for its earlier losses to Cathedral and Carpinteria by taking seventh place out of the top 12 1-A teams in all Southern California. Cathedral finished eighth, and Carpinteria ninth. Santa Fe League Champ La Salle swept the CIF with a first place finish.

All but one member of this year's team are returning next season. This year's top runners were Chris Burton, a junior; John Rodriguez, a sophomore; and Pedro Casas, a senior.

The most improved athlete on the team, according to Mr. Sampson, was David Magallanes, who finished third on the team in the CIF finals. Other outstanding runners this season were Chautemo Diaz-Infante, Jack Denver, Richard Elorriaga, Dan Zavala, Sal Rodriguez, Henry Ortiz, and Tal Frieberger. "These guys can be as proud as they want to," said Coach Sampson.

"For an athlete in cross country to reach his potential and beyond, it takes a special effort," Sampson added. "Two or three workouts a day are not uncommon, and year-round running is a necessity. Next season's success depends on our effort and program now."

-1980-

The Bosco Tech varsity soccer team became the Santa Fe League champions this season with a record of 11 wins, two losses, and one tie.

The final game was decided against Harvard on February 18, with Harvard holding the Techmen to their first scoreless game of the season.

The Techmen were neck and neck with La Salle for first place throughout the season, although the Techmen beat the Spartans twice this year.

The Techmen were able to squeeze by La Salle with scores of 1-0 and 3-2 with the league's number-one-ranked defense of Les Vary, Reagan Perry, Anton Swenoha, Karl Losch, and Joe Urbano.

The leading scorers on the team were Bob Larivee and Anton Swenoha.

Although the Techmen had the same league record as La Salle (11-2-1), they entered the division playoffs at a higher level because they had beaten the Spartans in both league games.

Several games toward the end of the season had to be played in the rain because of the short amount of time allowed by the CIF to make up cancelled games. The Techmen won all those games except that against Harvard, which they tied 0-0.

hike for hunger

To raise money for the Sisters of the Holy Nativity, the people of La Sato in Africa, and the missions in general, Ramona High and Bosco Tech joined forces in this year's Hike for Hunger.

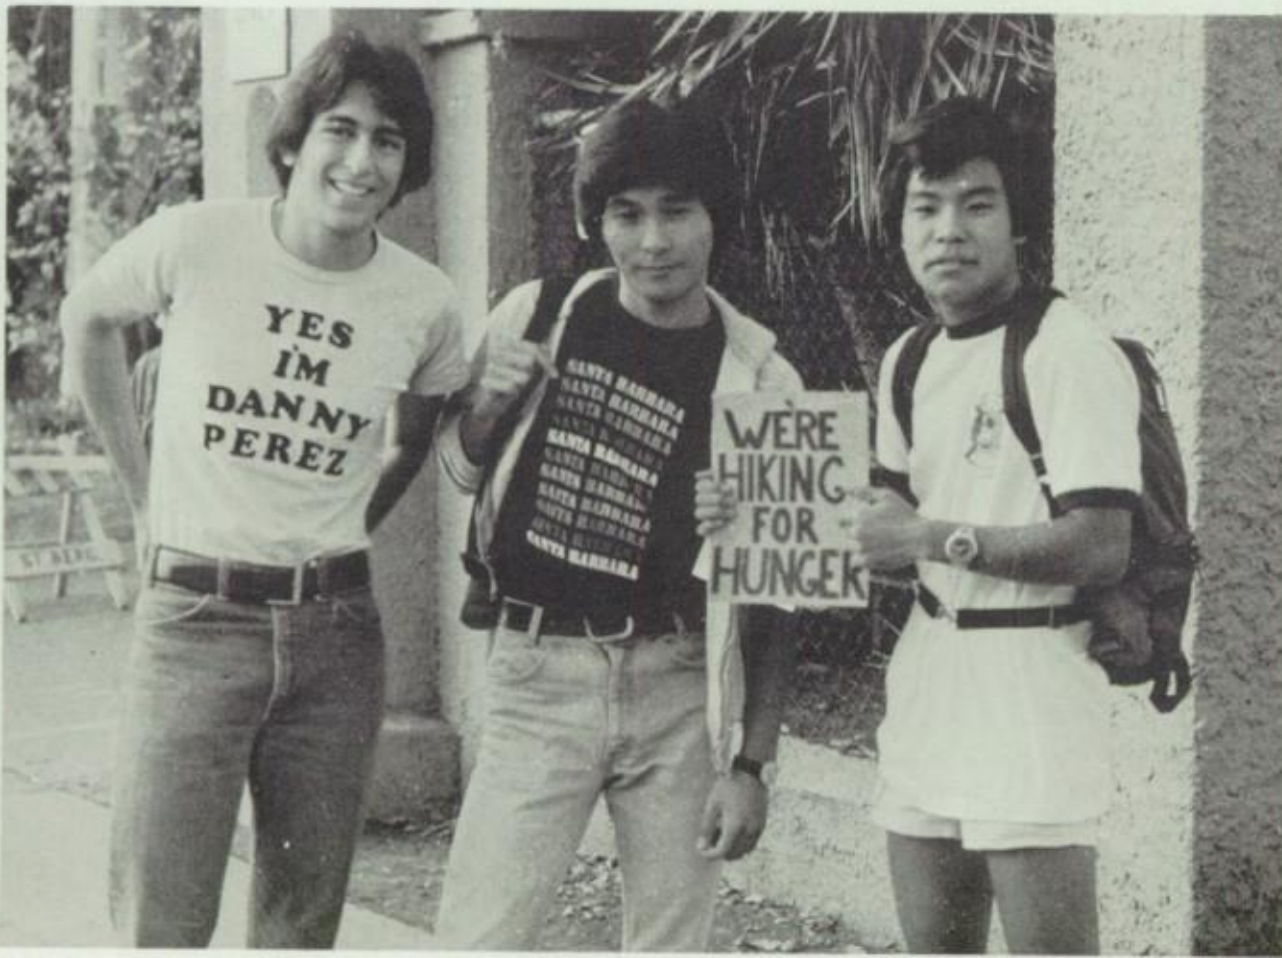

The annual event was held November 18 at Ramona Convent. It began at 8 A.M. and ended at 5 P.M. The hike was 20 miles long and covered the cities of Alhambra, Rosemead, San Gabriel, and Monterey Park.

The Hike for Hunger was a Ramona High School activity. Bosco Tech was only one of many schools participating in this year's program.

When asked why Bosco Tech participated in the annual event, College Secretary-Treasurer Jeff Cavallaro said, "This summer the student councils of Ramona and Bosco met to come up with some solution for greater participation among schools. This is one of them, and it looks like a big success."

mission

On Friday, October 5, juniors and seniors from Mission High School spent a fun-filled day at Bosco. They came to honor the Blessed Mother and to celebrate the month of the Rosary.

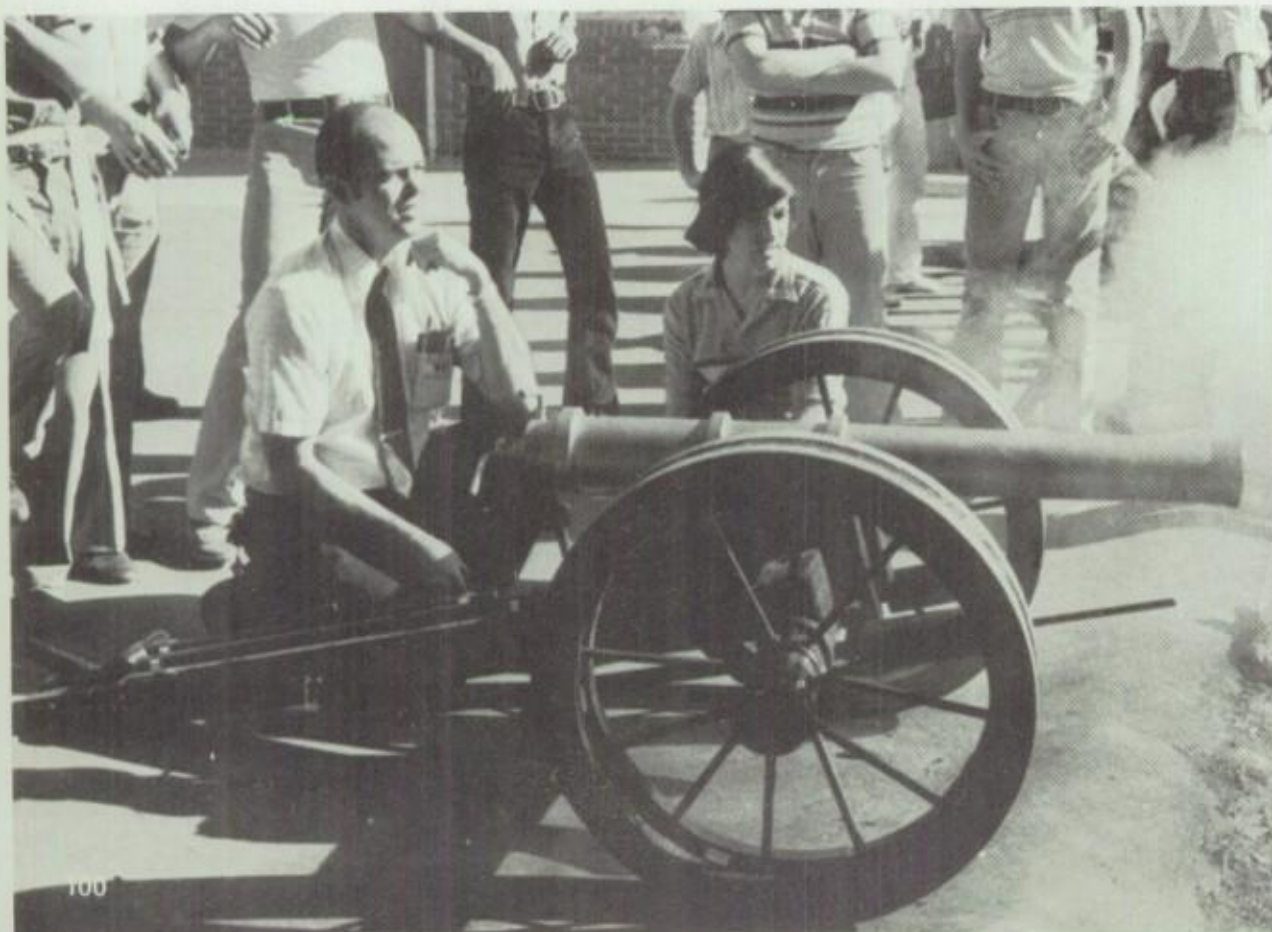

The event included a visitation by the girls to the instructional shops, a joint student body mass, lunch, and some games. The girls picked the shop of their choice and toured it with interest. Some were even able to participate in welding, building, and machining.

After the day's special mass, the Mission girls were treated to donuts and drinks, together with coed volleyball games that lasted through most of the afternoon.

The North decisively defeated the South - $3 \frac{1}{2}$ to $2 \frac{1}{2}$ - in the annual North-South showdown December 7, 1979.

The victory was extra special for the North as it broke the tie of nine wins for both sides. The tally is now 10-9.

Because the freshmen and the sophomores tied in their respective games, it was up to the juniors to break the tie in the contest between Photo and Building Tech. Photo's score came on a long pass play with Chris Gregg throwing to Scott Subler.

Efforts at collecting food, clothes, and toys for the disadvantaged met with great success during the 1979-80 school year. This success was due to the generosity of both faculty and students alike.

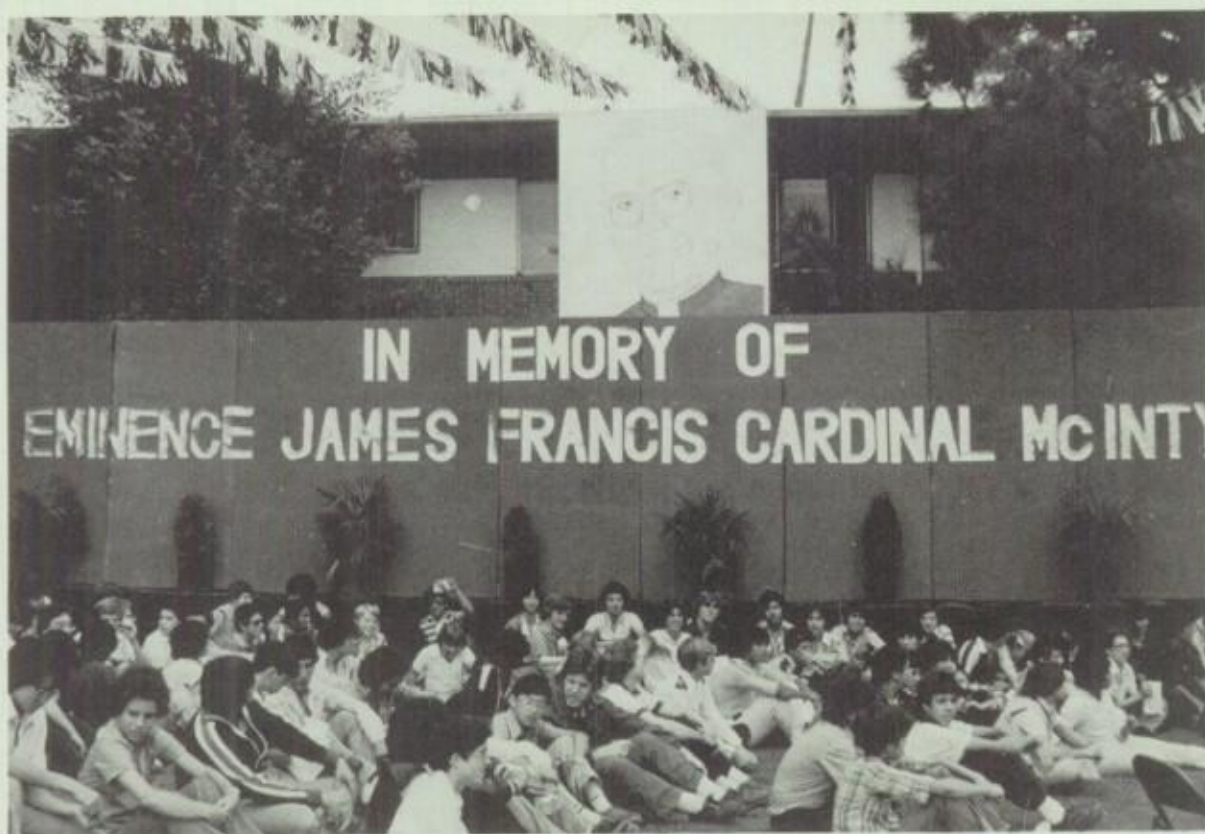

Drives took place during the school year at Thanksgiving, Christmas, and Easter. The Christmas campaign, for example, collected $400 worth of new toys, $150 worth of food stamps, 42 boxes of clothing, and 40 boxes of canned goods.

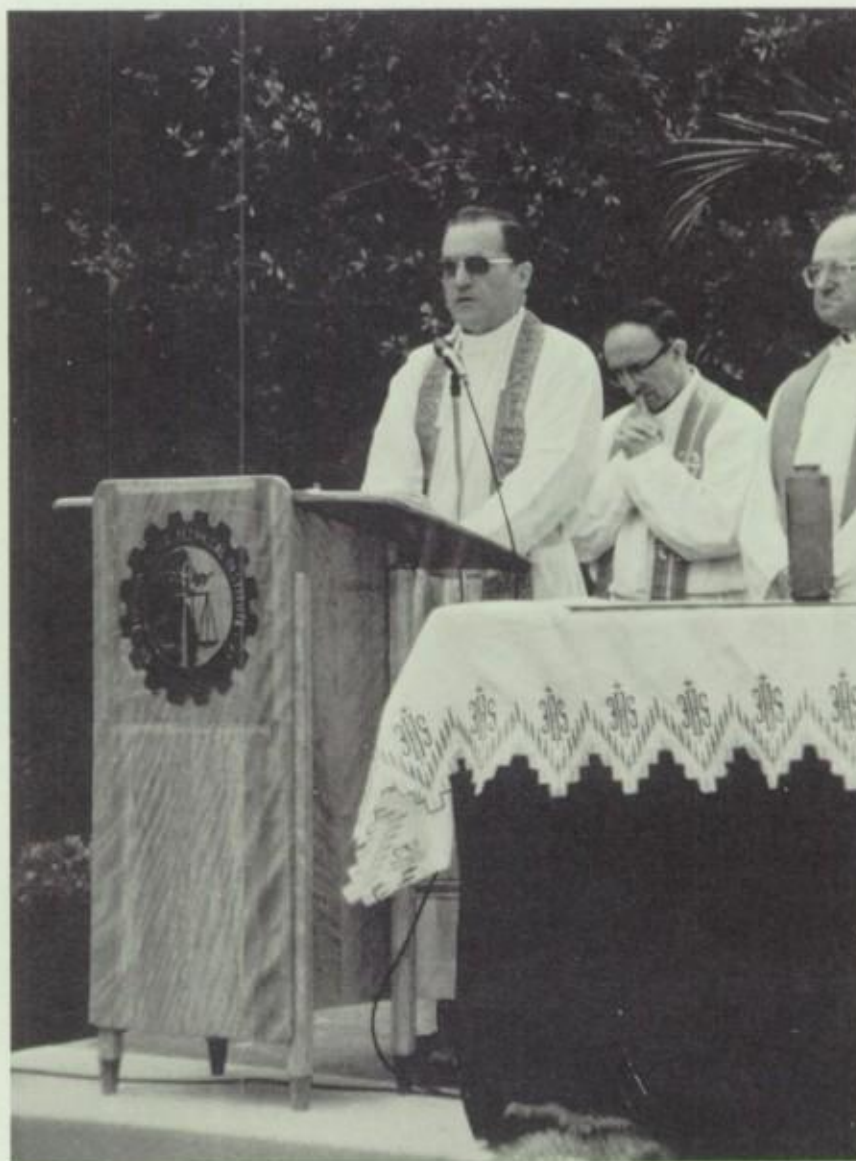

The success of this year's collection drives revolved around the efforts of the following shop representatives:

First Year: John Blaha, Alfred Najera, Jim Arenz, Ernest Marquez, Joe Ortiz, Frank Ochoa, and Robert Vasquez;
Second Year: Paul O'Donnell, Raul Ruelas, Ken Castellanos, Terry Lusk, Jose Del Rio, Chris Alvarez, Dan Pirotton, and Gerardo Mota;
Third Year: Luis Alejandro, Paul Fischer, Joe Krovoza, Chris Burton, Andrew Encinas, Don Del Pino, Chris Gregg; Fourth and Fifth Years: Ted Christansen, Eric Woods, Mark Felix, Jeff Cavallaro, Rich Phair, David Golden, and Gilberto Pacheco.

To honor the memory of its late founder, Bosco Tech celebrated a special "Cardinal McIntyre Day" on campus Friday, October 19.

The special morning program in honor of the "Father of Bosco Tech" began on the campus mall with the celebration of the liturgy by the Rev. Msgr. Benjamin G. Hawkes, vicar general of the Los Angeles Archdiocese and a member of the Bosco Tech Board of Trustees.

Homilist at the 10:30 Mass was the Very Rev. Thomas J. Prendiville, S.D.B., current Salesian vice provincial and the first president of Bosco Tech.

Following the Mass, the morning activities continued in the gymnasium with a brief survey of the school's history by Fr. William Schafer. Accompanying this narration was a slide and film presentation by Bro. Dan Rogala, director of student activities.

Special feature of the student body assembly was a series of reminiscences about the early days at Bosco Tech by Mr. Jerry Smith, a member of the school's first graduating class, and Dr. William C. Harrigan, Jr., a member of the class of '62.

Introductions during the morning activities were made by Fr. Paul Caporali, director of the Salesians' St. Joseph Retreat House and a faculty member at Bosco since its founding.

easter '79

Easter vacation 1979 saw a group of adventurous Bosco Tech students, guided by Mr. Stolz, visit the Central American country of Guatemala. After first touring the Presidential Palace, they saw the world famous Good Friday Indian processions in Antigua. There it took 80 Indians dressed in Arab outfits to carry each of the enormous religious floats over streets covered with flowers. Next a speedboat took them across Lake Atitlan, perhaps the world's most beautiful volcanic lake, to the Indian village of Santiago.

The next day was spent at the most famous Indian market in Central America, Chichicastenango, where they saw animal sacrifices to pagan gods. A DC-3 flew them into the jungle to the unique Mayan pyramids of Tikal. The trees there were alive with monkeys, parrots, and toucans.

After exploring the Lanquin caves of central Guatemala and visiting the Black Christ shrine at Esquipulas, they crossed the border into Honduras to see the ancient Mayan acropolis of Copan.

In eastern Guatemala a jungle cruise on the Rio Dulce took them to the Caribbean and to San Felipe, an old Spanish fort. The jungle park at Quirigua and a quetzal wildlife reserve were also visited.

The last day was the literal high point of the trip - a climb up still active and smoking Pacaya Volcano (7,382 feet).

These and many other adventures made for a most valuable and enjoyable vacation experience.
